

Proper Care and Maintenance of Stage Curtains

Properly maintained stage curtains should last 25-30 years.

Proper Care of a Curtain includes:

- 1 | Cleaning. Once a year the curtain should be vacuumed completely. Dust is the enemy of stage curtains. The dust accumulates, leaches the fire retardency out of the curtain and causes it to dry rot. Vacuum each year.
- 2 | Dry Cleaning. The curtain should be dry cleaned each 5 years if vacuumed yearly or every three years if not vacuumed annually. This deep cleaning is critical to a curtains long life
- 3 | Flame Retardant Treatment. If a curtain is not vacuumed annually, the curtain should be treated after a professional dry cleaning every 3 years. If the curtain is vacuumed annually, fire retardency should be done each 5 years after professional cleaning.
- 4 | Repairs. Because Specialty is one of the major stage curtain manufacturers in the country we do our own repairs to maximize the longevity of your curtains.
- 5 | Environmental Control. Stage Curtains need to be maintained in a controlled area. Too much humidity and the curtains can shrink, ruin flame retardency and dry rot.

Curtain Maintenance Services

Repair of snag and tears
Cleaning
Flame Retardant Treatment
Replacement Curtains
Replacement Track
Curtain Motorization

Other Specialty Products and Services

Window treatment Cleaning
Window treatment flame retardant treatment
Window treatment repairs
New Window Treatments
Lighting controls (lighting control systems)
Automated window treatments

Specialty Services

Available in Virginia directly from our field service staff for take down, re-hang and services above

Outside of Virginia Services through our nearly 400 dealers and agents across the country.

Call us at 804.264.3700 locally, 800.676.2055, or 1.800.817.1204

Outside Virginia our dealers can assist you in taking down your curtains, shipping them to our cleaning plant and re-hanging them for you when ready. A complete turnkey solution to your needs.